CÁLICES GOBLETS COPAS VERRES À PIED

Numa degustação de vinhos, o copo tem um papel muito importante. Um bom copo consegue aumentar e evidenciar os atributos do vinho. Deve ter sempre em especial atenção a escolha do tipo de copo para servir uma bebida específica.

Na degustação de vinhos, devem ser utilizados copos de longa aste e de espessura adequada, para que possa manusear o copo sem que o vinho sofra alterações de temperatura.

Um vinho de tinto austero e muito envelhecido requer um copo com um bojo grande e um bocal ligeiramente mais pequeno do que o bojo. O copo deve ser enchido até metade para poder evoluir integralmente.

Os vinhos brancos sápidos, os tintos jovens e os clássicos vinhos tintos medianamente envelhecidos, requerem um copo mais esguio no bojo e devem ser servidos até metade do seu volume.

Os vinhos brancos e frisantes devem ser servidos num copo alongado de forma a evidenciar o seu aroma.

Os rosés devem ser servidos em copos levemente arredondados no bojo e pouco altos.

Para o champanhe, se este for seco, deve ser servido num copo muito alongado, enquanto que os espumantes doces devem ser servidos em taças.

O licor e o vinho do Porto devem ser servidos em copos pequenos que se estreitam no bocal para conservar os aromas.

In a wine tasting, the glass plays a very important role. A good glass can increase and highlight the attributes of wine. Particular attention should always be paid to the choice of the type of glass to serve a specific beverage.

In wine tasting, long-stemmed glasses of suitable thickness must be used, so that you can handle the glass without the wine undergoing temperature changes.

An austere and very aged red wine requires a glass with a large bulge and a slightly smaller mouth than the bulge. The glass should be filled halfway in order to fully evolve.

Sophisticated white wines, young reds and classic red aged wines, require a lighter glass in the bottle and should be served to half their volume.

The white and semi-sparkling wines should be served in an elongated glass in order to show its aroma.

The rosés should be served in cups slightly rounded in the bulge and not very high.

For the champagne, if it is dry, it should be served in a very elongated glass, whereas the sparkling wines should be served in glasses.

Liquor and Port wine should be served in small glasses that narrow into the mouthpiece to conserve the aromas.

En degustação de vinho, o vidro tem um papel muito importante. Um bom vaso pode melhorar e destacar os atributos do vinho. Sempre se deve prestar especial atenção à escolha do tipo de vidro para servir uma bebida específica.

En cata, se devem usar taças largas e de espessura adequada, de modo que possa manejar o vidro sem que o vinho se submeta a mudanças de temperatura.

Um vinho tinto envelhecido austero e requer um vaso com um recipiente grande e uma boquilha ligeiramente mais pequena do que o bulto. O vidro deve encher-se até à metade para poder desenvolver-se plenamente.

Os sápidos vinhos brancos, rosados jovens e vinhos clássicos medianamente roxo envelhecido, requerem um vaso mais delgado no núcleo e se devem servir à metade do seu volume.

Os vinhos brancos e espumosos se devem servir em um vaso longo com o fim de ressaltar o seu aroma.

Rosado se deve servir em copos ligeiramente arredondados no ventre e pouco altos.

Para o champán, se este for seco, deve ser servido em um vaso muito alongado, enquanto que os espumosos doces devem ser servidos em taças.

O licor e o vinho do Porto devem ser servidos em vasos pequenos que reduzem a boquilha para preservar os aromas.

Dans une dégustation de vin, le verre a un rôle très important. Un bon verre peut améliorer et mettre en valeur les attributs du vin. Vous devez toujours accorder une attention particulière au choix du type de verre pour servir une boisson spécifique.

Pour mieux déguster un vin, un verre à longue tige et d'épaisseur adéquate doit être utilisé afin de le manier sans que le vin souffre quelconque changement de température.

Un vin vieux rouge austère nécessite d'un verre avec des parois en rondeur pour aérer le vin en souplesse et une forme ovoïde qui doit être à moitié rempli.

Les vins blancs savoureux, les rouges jeunes et les vins juste vieux classiques exigent un verre plus haut et plus effilé à moitié rempli pour que le vin se dévoile.

Les vins blancs et mousseux doivent être servis dans un verre long afin de faire ressortir rapidement les arômes.

Le Rosé doit être servi dans un verre légèrement arrondi et moins haut.

Quant au Champagne, s'il est Brut, il doit être servi dans un verre très allongé, tandis que s'il est doux, il doit être servi dans des coupes.

Les liqueurs et le vin de Porto doivent être servis dans de petits verres de petite dimension évasés pour une meilleure conservation des arômes.

Os contentores padrão GN ou Gastronorm são recipientes com dimensões universais segundo a norma europeia EN-631, que estabelece quais os materiais e artigos que podem entrar em contacto com os alimentos e as medidas para os recipientes utilizados nos serviços de manipulação, conservação e distribuição de alimentos.

A utilização nas cozinhas profissionais, proporciona grandes benefícios na preparação e confecção dos alimentos, devido a um melhor e maior aproveitamento do espaço na cozinha, à redução da necessidade de troca dos ingredientes para os recipientes, diminuição ou perda de desperdício de alimentos, facilidade na higienização e melhoramento a nível de segurança alimentar.

Os contentores GN, possuem uma dimensão padrão de comprimento e largura de 530x325mm, estabelecida mundialmente como 1/1. Sempre com base no padrão 1/1, há contentores múltiplos (2/1) e submúltiplos (1/2, 1/3, 1/4, 1/6, etc), possibilitando composições personalizadas dentro do espaço 1/1.

A profundidade do contentor padrão GN pode variar de fabricante para fabricante, podendo ir de 20 a 200 mm.

Para maior resistência a baixas/altas temperaturas, facilidade de transporte, durabilidade e higienização, os materiais mais comuns utilizados são o aço inox e o policarbonato, no entanto existem contentores padrão GN noutros materiais igualmente adequados aos processos.

Os contentores GN de aço inox podem ser lisos ou perfurados, ter ou não asas de apoio e tampas de aço inox ou de outros materiais.

Os modelos perfurados são utilizados em casos de alimentos onde não se deseja a retenção de líquidos no preparo.

Standard containers GN or Gastronorm are containers with universal dimensions according to the European standard EN-631, which establishes the materials and articles that may come into contact with food and measures for containers used in the handling, storage and distribution service of food.

The use in the professional kitchens, provides great benefits in the preparation and preparation of the food, due to a better and greater use of space in the kitchen, reduction of the need to exchange ingredients for the containers, reduction or loss of food waste, ease of hygiene and improvement of food safety.

The GN containers have a standard dimension of length and width of 530x325mm, established worldwide as 1/1. Always based on the 1/1 standard, there are multiple (2/1) and submultiples (1/2, 1/3, 1/4, 1/6, etc.) containers, enabling custom compositions within 1/1 space.

The depth of the standard GN container can vary from manufacturer to manufacturer, ranging from 20 to 200 mm.

For greater resistance to low / high temperatures, ease of transport, durability and hygiene, the most common materials used are stainless steel and polycarbonate, however there are standard GN containers in other materials equally suited to the processes.

Stainless steel GN containers can be smooth or perforated, have support wings and stainless steel or other material covers.

The perforated models are used in food cases where liquid retention is not desired in the preparation.

Los contenedores estándar GN o contenedores Gastronorm son dimensiones universales según la norma EN-631 Europea, que establece qué materiales y objetos destinados a entrar en contacto con los alimentos y las medidas de los contenedores utilizados en el servicio de manejo, conservación y distribución de alimentos.

El uso en las cocinas profesionales, ofrece importantes beneficios en la preparación y cocción de los alimentos, debido a una mejor y mayor espacio en la cocina, lo que reduce la necesidad de intercambio de ingredientes para los contenedores, o la pérdida de los residuos de alimentos disminución, facilidad de limpieza y mejora del nivel de seguridad de los alimentos.

Recipientes GN, tienen una dimensión de longitud estándar y una anchura de 530x325mm, a nivel mundial establecido como 1/1. Donde basado en el patrón de 1/1, existen múltiples contenedores (2/1) y submúltiplos (1/2, 1/3, 1/4, 1/6, etc.), lo que permite composiciones personalizadas dentro del alcance 1/1.

La profundidad del recipiente GN patrón puede variar de un fabricante a otro, puede variar de 20 a 200 mm.

Para una mayor resistencia a altas / bajas temperaturas, la facilidad de transporte, la durabilidad y la higiene, los materiales más comunes que se utilizan son de acero inoxidable y policarbonato, sin embargo, hay recipientes GN estándar también otros materiales adecuados para el proceso.

El contenedor de acero inoxidable GN, puede que: tener lisa o perforada, o puede no tener alas de apoyo y cubrir acero inoxidable u otros materiales. modelos perforados se utilizan en casos en los alimentos no quiere la retención de líquidos en la preparación.

Les récipients GN standard ou conteneurs Gastronorm sont des dimensions universelles selon la norme européenne EN-631, qui établit quels matériaux et articles destinés à entrer en contact avec les aliments et les mesures pour les conteneurs utilisés dans le service de traitement, la conservation et la distribution alimentaire.

L'utilisation dans les cuisines professionnelles, fournit des avantages importants dans la préparation et la cuisson des aliments, en raison d'une utilisation plus efficace et plus l'espace dans la cuisine, ce qui réduit la nécessité d'un échange d'ingrédients pour les conteneurs, ou des aliments pour diminuer la perte de déchets, la facilité de nettoyage et d'améliorer le niveau de sécurité alimentaire.

Récipients GN, ont une dimension de longueur standard et une largeur de 530x325mm, défini comme 1/1 au niveau mondial. Lorsque sur la base du modèle 1/1, il y a plusieurs conteneurs (2/1) et sous-multiples (1/2, 1/3, 1/4, 1/6, etc.), ce qui permet des compositions sur mesure dans le cadre 1/1.

La profondeur du récipient GN de motif peut varier d'un fabricant à l'autre, peut varier de 20 à 200 mm.

Pour une plus grande résistance à des températures basses / élevées, la facilité de transport, de la durabilité et de l'hygiène, les matériaux les plus couramment utilisés sont en acier inoxydable et en polycarbonate, mais il y a des bacs GN standards aussi d'autres matériaux appropriés pour le processus.

Le récipient GN en acier inoxydable, ils peuvent: être lisses ou perforés, ou peut ne pas avoir des ailes de support et recouvre l'acier inoxydable ou d'autres matériaux. modèles perforés sont utilisés dans les cas où la nourriture ne veut pas la rétention d'eau dans la préparation.
